Creative Writing: Creating New Worlds with Words
Creative writing is an art form in which thoughts, feelings and dreams are expressed in words. In this journey, the writer creates original works by observing, experiencing and imaginatively blending his/her inner world and the outside world. Creative writing is not only a form of storytelling, but also a way of thinking. The writer thinks with words, feels with words and creates new worlds with words.